Annual Report

FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2026

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Dear Shareholders,

I am pleased to present the Annual Report of your Company for the year ended March 31, 2026, a year when we embarked upon structural transformation involving addressing legacy issues, creating strategic blueprint and engaging in disciplined execution with unwavering focus on the long term.

The year began against a backdrop of heightened scrutiny across the lending ecosystem. Regulators, investors and lenders increasingly focused on underwriting quality, portfolio resilience and governance standards. At the same time, global geopolitical developments, evolving trade relationships and periodic volatility in financial markets created an environment that demanded prudence and adaptability. Against this backdrop, your Company remained focused on a clear objective: building a stronger, more resilient and scalable lending franchise capable of delivering sustainable growth across economic cycles.

The most significant development during the year was our transition towards an on-book lending model. This transition represents far more than a change in funding structure. It reflects a deliberate shift towards greater ownership of credit outcomes, stronger customer engagement, enhanced risk visibility and a business model designed to create long-term stakeholder value.

To support this transformation, we continued to strengthen our leadership team across business, risk, credit, collections, technology and finance. The combination of experienced institutional talent and entrepreneurial execution capabilities has significantly enhanced our ability to scale responsibly.

We also strengthened our capital position during the year through fresh capital infusion of ~INR 518 crores in November 2025 (~INR 361 crores in LFL), providing the resources required to support legacy impacts and growth while investing in risk management, technology infrastructure and organizational capability. These efforts were recognized by external stakeholders through an improvement in our credit profile reflecting an improvement in our credit rating from CRISIL and ICRA, two reputed credit rating agencies, to AA- from BBB+.

I am particularly pleased by the confidence shown by banks, financial institutions and debt market participants. During the year, we expanded our borrowing relationships and significantly improved the availability of funding lines from banks and asset management companies. This diversification of funding sources enhances financial resilience, reduces concentration risk as well as funding costs and supports future growth initiatives.

While capital and funding are important, sustainable lending ultimately depends on credit quality. Accordingly, FY2025-26 saw the introduction of a significantly strengthened credit underwriting framework. Credit underwriting now forms an integral part of our lending process, supported by structured data analytics, bureau insights, cash-flow assessment methodologies and risk-based decisioning frameworks.

Another important strategic decision during the year was the gradual evolution of our target customer profile. While remaining committed to serving underserved businesses, we increasingly focused on established enterprises with stronger operating histories and demonstrated business stability. We believe this calibrated shift will support more balanced risk-adjusted growth while continuing to address the substantial credit gap that exists within India's MSME sector.

Technology remains central to our future competitiveness. During the year, we completed the selection of our next-generation technology platform and commenced implementation. This platform is expected to enhance scalability, improve operational efficiency, strengthen control frameworks and deliver superior customer experience.

We also moved from experimentation to deployment in selected Artificial Intelligence use cases. AI-enabled tools are now being progressively introduced across customer service, portfolio monitoring and collections prioritization. Our objective remains practical and measured adoption that enhances decision quality without compromising governance standards. In parallel, the Company has initiated comprehensive measures to strengthen compliance with India's Digital Personal Data Protection framework. We believe customer trust and data stewardship will increasingly become important competitive differentiators within financial services.

Looking ahead, we remain constructive on the long-term prospects of India's MSME sector. The structural drivers of formalization, digitization and financial inclusion continue to create substantial opportunities for responsible lenders. At the same time, uncertainty arising from geopolitical developments, global economic conditions and evolving credit cycles reinforces the importance of robust execution.

As such, our strategy for FY2026-27 continues to emphasize calibrated growth, rather than growth at any cost. We will prioritize portfolio quality, capital efficiency, funding diversification, technology-led productivity and strong governance standards.

The transformation undertaken over the last two years has strengthened the foundations of the Company. While we remain mindful of the challenges that accompany every growth phase, we are encouraged by the progress made and confident in our ability to create sustainable value for all stakeholders.

On behalf of the Board, I thank our shareholders, lenders, regulators, customers and employees for their continued trust and support.

Sincerely,

Annexure – A - Management Discussion Analysis 2025-26

1. India Economic Outlook 2025-26

India has been as a resilient performer amid global uncertainty. Real GDP growth for FY 2025–26 accelerated to 7.6%, according to the World Bank, driven by strong domestic consumption, income and GST tax cuts, and a re-basing of national accounts to the 2022-23 base year. Reflecting strong domestic economic momentum, both the IMF¹ and World Bank confirm India's status as the world's fastest-growing major economy.

2. NBFC Sector & Outlook¹

Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) remain a cornerstone of India's economic framework, contributing approximately 30% to India's GDP and over 45% to its total export volumes. The formalization of this ecosystem has strengthened remarkably over recent years. India has now registered 7.7 crore Udyam-registered enterprises, within which 3.6 crore unique entities operate as credit-active borrowers across commercial bureaus and individual business loan segments. This active participation translates into a solid formal credit penetration rate of 47% across registered enterprises.

The FY26 operational landscape witnessed asset quality pressures across the Unsecured MSME and Retail Lending segments, driven primarily by a uptick in delinquencies within enterprises holding exposures up to ₹10 lakhs. In response to these retail repayment strains, lenders actively moderated new-to-credit (NTC) originations to construct lower-risk profile portfolios, shifting credit supply toward credit-tested repeat borrowers and larger loan ticket sizes. Furthermore, international trade friction—including the implementation of new trade tariffs—initially generated market anxieties regarding severe demand and supply disruptions for core export clusters like textiles and garments. However, actual commercial credit metrics demonstrate structural resilience; portfolio quality in these export blocks has shown limited signs of systemic stress, and underlying market demand continues to outpace external macro pressures.

The overall outlook for the NBFC sector remains cautiously positive, with credit growth remaining healthy supported by robust consumer demand, rising capital expenditure, and deepening market penetration. Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) have deepened their systemic market share, commanding 26% of origination value and 40% of overall origination volume. MSME lending is expected to remain a growth engine, with non-banking lenders expanding their reach into tier-2 and tier-3 cities. Strategically, NBFCs are increasingly preferring to operate unsecured lending as a risk-mitigated adjunct to their primary secured lending portfolios rather than as a standalone vertical. In tandem with this momentum, CRISIL Ratings projects the NBFC industry's aggregate Assets under Management (AUM) to expand at a steady 18–19% annual growth rate, positioning the sector to surpass the landmark ₹50 lakh crore mark by March 2027.

3. Opportunities & Threats

3.1 Opportunities

- Expanding Addressable Credit Gap: While consolidated MSME credit outstanding has increased to over ₹67.6 lakh crore, recent data from SIDBI and CRISIL demonstrates that an addressable, unmet credit gap of ₹30 lakh crore still persists. This formal credit vacuum offers non-banking lenders a growth horizon to capture market share.
- Supportive Government Policies and DPI Enhancements: Schemes like CGFMU, CGTMSE and increased budgetary support for MSMEs provide a conducive environment for expanding our lending portfolio and market presence. Concurrently, the mass adoption of Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI) like the Account Aggregator framework and GST-based cash-flow registries provides reliable, alternative transactional cash-flow validation to underwriting processes. Moreover, the Government is proactive in supporting MSMEs from external shocks by launching schemes like the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS 5.0), delivering urgent collateral-free credit support and expanded working capital buffers.

3.2 Threats

- Inherent Credit Risks: Despite mitigation through credit appraisal models, the high-risk nature of MSME lending persists, particularly during economic downturns.
- Intense Competition: Growing competition from banks, fintech and captive finance companies, which could pressure margins and market share in the lending space.
- Geo-political Volatility and Operational Vulnerabilities: Geopolitical tensions and maritime trade disruptions pose a material threat to the MSME sector. These external shocks directly trigger raw material supply chain bottlenecks, inflate international freight costs, and sharply compress operating profit margins. Due to thin capital cushions, prolonged geoeconomic friction severely strains working capital cycles and elevates financial vulnerability across vulnerable industrial clusters.

Segment Information

The Company (LFL) operates in a single reportable segment i.e. financing, since the nature of the loans are exposed to similar risk and return profiles. There are no separate reportable segments dealing with operating segments.

4. Business Outlook

4.1 Business Model

In FY 2025-2026 and going forward, Lendingkart has made a conscious shift in its business model and capitalisation as detailed below:

- Shift from Off-book to On-book Model: This strategic change allows us to have greater control over our portfolio, reduce risks associated with off-balance-sheet transactions, and generate more predictable revenue streams.
- Credit Rating Update: Our strong capitalization and strengthened financial profile led to a credit rating upgrade by CRISIL and ICRA to AA- for long-term facilities and A1+ for short-term facilities
- Launching the Secured Lending product: To reduce inherent volatility in the Unsecured Business Loans product, Lendingkart will be venturing into Secured Lending and will be launching a Loan against Property product in FY27.
- Strengthening Capital and Risk Management Practices: As part of our ongoing commitment to strengthening Lendingkart's foundation, we are focused on raising additional capital and further fortifying our risk management and collections practices to improve portfolio quality. We are doing this by enforcing rigorous early warning mechanisms and proactively tightening policies to adapt to environmental changes.

4.2 Driving Scalability through Technology

Technology is a critical aspect of Lendingkart's operations to support financial inclusion of MSMEs. Lendingkart utilizes a hybrid approach of proprietary analytical tools and machine learning based systems for credit underwriting, delivery and collections along with touchpoints for overall assessment. With increasing demand for seamless digital lending solutions, Lendingkart is committed to further invest in AI and machine learning technologies to refine the risk models and enhance customer experience. In pursuit of this objective, Lendingkart began a technology transformation exercise with an external vendor to revamp the technology platform and make it scalable, versatile and efficient. We aim to complete the exercise by March 2027.

The DPDP compliance program is a strategic imperative for Lendingkart, ensuring we meet India's data protection obligations and build lasting trust with our Customers. We have kickstarted our journey with a comprehensive current-state assessment, targeting full compliance by May 2027 as required by regulations. Our roadmap focuses on implementing the key DPDP Act requirements:

- Data Discovery & Mapping: Locating and classifying all personal data.
- Consent & Rights Management: Deploying a robust consent platform and a Data Principal rights portal.
- Data Lifecycle Management: Establishing clear mechanisms for retention, deletion, and breach management.

4.3 Centralised Operations & Customer Service

In order to unify our operations under a single, focused leadership, we formed a centralised Operations & Customer Service Department to support enhanced collaboration across functions through unified processes and priorities. This will lead to improved resource utilization, consistent performance metrics and governance for operational excellence and faster decision-making and execution, and better customer service driven by a common strategic direction. We are now seeing significant improvements in ensuring effective customer service. 99% of all customer complaints are resolved within TAT, Customer Satisfaction Score (CSAT) is at 93.5% and NPS for new Disbursals is 82%.

5. Risk Types and Mitigation Strategies

5.1 Credit Risk

Credit risk arises from potential losses due to borrowers or counterparties failing to meet contractual obligations, primarily from lending activities. In FY26, Lendingkart strengthened its credit monitoring framework by enhancing the credit assessment process of cash flow generations, Risk Gradings of the borrowers and usage of SME credit Scores. This was supplemented with mandatory field visits, more involved underwriting along with enhanced touch points with the borrower, KYC Checks, credit interviews, mandatory customer / business verifications, and significantly strengthening the collection & recovery infrastructure.

5.2 Market Risk

Market risk involves potential financial losses from adverse changes in market factors like interest rates, credit spreads, foreign exchange rates, etc. impacting earnings and capital. To mitigate this, Lendingkart diversifies its Lenders base to include funding from Banks, NBFCs, DFIs, AIF and Retail Investors and also its instrument of fund raising to include borrowings in form of Term Loans, NCD, Commercial Paper, Direct Assignment and Securitisation.

5.3 Liquidity Risk

Lendingkart's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its obligations including contractual debt repayment and support its growth aspirations. The Company has a Liquidity Risk Management Framework to review and monitor liquidity risk and ensure compliance with the prescribed regulatory requirement. LFL raised INR 447 crores of additional borrowings during FY26.

6. Internal Controls Observations

Lendingkart's independent internal audit function ensures the reliability of its financial statements, regulatory compliances, and business operations. As part of its commitment to continuous operational excellence, Lendingkart proactively addresses deficiencies across its processes, regulatory frameworks, and internal business controls. During the financial year under review, no material deficiencies or adverse observations were reported by either the Statutory or Internal Auditors regarding these controls.

7. Review of Operational Performance & Financial Performance

7.1 Assets Under Management (AUM) and Disbursement Trends

As of March 2026, Lendingkart's Total Assets Under Management (AUM) stood at ₹1,308 crore, down from ₹5,000 crore in March 2025. Disbursements for the year were ₹263 crore, compared to ₹1,855 crore in the previous year. This was primarily driven by exit of co-lending partners, rising portfolio delinquencies and a challenging environment for unsecured loans. However, pursuant to capital infusion, credit policy changes and setting up of strong underwriting teams, growth in disbursements has seen increase from February 2026.

7.2 Revenue and Profitability

The reduction in disbursement and moderation in AUM including higher proportion of delinquent credit portfolio impacted the total revenue from operations, which stood at ₹327 Crores for the year from ₹867 Crores in previous year.

Finance costs reduced to ₹186 crores in FY26 from ₹303 crores in FY25 primarily on account of lower average debt in line with lower AUM and incremental lower rate of borrowings post the credit rating upgrade in Q3'26. Credit cost reduced to ₹290 crore in FY26 from ₹523 crore in FY25. Lendingkart also adopted several strategic initiatives to reduce operating expenses to ₹297 crs from 442 Cr in FY25. As such, excluding one-time/exceptional items, the entire revenue shortfall was offset by reduction in operating expenses and credit costs. As such, the reported loss for FY 26 was at ₹333 crs against ₹288 crs in FY25.

7.3 Portfolio Asset Quality

Our asset quality improved in FY26, with GNPA dropping to 3.81% (from 4.33% in FY25) and NNPA falling to 1.62% (from 2.37% in FY25). Hence, with the reduction in credit costs and the measures undertaken to enhance portfolio quality, combined with strategic initiatives to strengthen the collection framework and reduce operating costs, we expect to create the foundation for an improved, cost effective and sustainable financial performance in the long term. However – headwinds related to co-lending portfolios and credit guarantee schemes are likely to persist in near future too..

7.4 CRAR

LFL received infusion of Rs 361 crore of capital during the financial year ended March 31, 2026. Consequently, the Capital to Risk-Weighted Assets Ratio (CRAR) stood at a healthy 79.61%, well above the regulatory mandate of 15% and higher than the 35.65% in FY25, reflecting a secure and sustainable financial position. This surplus capital ensures compliance with regulatory requirements, creates risk absorption capacity and provides considerable headroom to expand our loan portfolio.

8. Our People

As of March 2026, Lendingkart Group employees strength stood at 846 (including 145 offroll employees) from 1224 employees (including 435 offroll employees) in the previous year. Our employees are the driving force behind our success in MSME lending. Through various engagement and enablement programs, we actively nurture talent. Our inclusive culture promotes continuous learning, ensures equal opportunities for all genders, and supports unbiased growth enabling us thrive in a competitive market.

Lendingkart is making a clear pivot towards focusing on the pillars of quality, profitability, and sustainable growth. While growth remains central to our vision, we recognize the need to build more resilient and sustainable practices that will drive profitability and ensure long-term success. Our priority is to continue to grow responsibly to secure sustainable profitability.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Lendingkart Finance Limited

Report on the Audit of Ind AS Financial Statements

1. Opinion

We have audited the accompanying Ind AS Financial Statements of Lendingkart Finance Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2026, the Statement of Profit and Loss including Other Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended on that date and notes to the Ind AS Financial Statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "Ind AS Financial Statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the accompanying Ind AS Financial Statements gives a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2026, the loss [including other comprehensive income], the statement of changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

2. Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the Ind AS Financial Statements.

3. Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note No 71 of the accompanying statement, which describes the reclassification made to the comparative financial information for the year ended March 31, 2025 to align with the current year's presentation in accordance with the observation of the Reserve Bank of India as described in the aforesaid note.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

4. Key Audit Matter

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements of the current financial year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Sr. No.	Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
1.	Expected Credit Loss (ECL) on Loans and Advances Ind AS 109: Financial Instruments ("Ind AS 109") requires the Company to provide for impairment of its Loans and Advances ("Financial Instruments") using the Expected Credit Losses ("ECL") approach. ECL involves an estimation of probability-weighted loss on Financial Instruments over their life, considering reasonable and supportable information about past events, current conditions, and forecasts of future economic conditions which could impact the credit quality of the Company's loans and advances. As at March 31, 2026, the carrying value of loan assets measured at amortized cost, aggregated Rs. 66,286.16 Lakhs (net of allowance of ECL Rs. 8,571.86 Lakhs) constituting 39.38% of the Company's total assets. In the process, a significant degree of judgement has been applied by the management for: a) Data inputs – The application of ECL model requires several data inputs. This increases the risk of completeness and accuracy of the data that has been used to apply assumptions in the model.	Our Audit Approach: Our audit approach was a combination of test of internal controls and substantive procedures which included the following: a) Evaluating the Company's policy, as approved by the Board of Directors, for impairment of carrying value of loans and advances and assessing appropriateness of the Company's impairment methodologies as required under Ind AS 109. b) Obtained an understanding of the ECL model adopted by the Company including the key inputs and assumptions including management overlays. c) Testing the design and effectiveness of internal controls over the following: ➤ key controls over the completeness and accuracy of the key inputs, data and assumptions into the Ind AS 109 impairment models. ➤ key controls over the application of the staging criteria consistent with the definitions applied in accordance with the policy approved by the Board of Directors including the appropriateness of the qualitative factors. ➤ management's controls over authorisation and calculation of post model adjustments and management overlays to the output of the ECL model. d) Also, for a sample of ECL allowance on loan assets tested: ➤ Sample testing over key inputs, data and assumptions impacting ECL calculations

Sr. No.	Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
	b) Model estimations – Inherently judgmental models are used to estimate ECL which involves determining Probabilities of Default ("PD"), Loss Given Default ("LGD"), and Exposures at Default ("EAD") considering impact of infrequent past events on future probability of default and forward - looking macro – economic factors. The PD and the LGD are the key drivers of estimation complexity in the ECL and as a result are considered the most significant judgmental aspect of the Company's modelling approach. c) Defining qualitative/ quantitative thresholds for 'significant increase in credit risk' ("SICR") and 'default' particularly for corporate portfolio, wherein Company's credit risk function also segregates loans with specific risk characteristics based on trigger events identified using sufficient and credible information available from internal sources supplemented by external data. Impairment allowance for these exposures is reviewed and accounted on a case- by -case basis. d) Qualitative and quantitative factors used in staging the loan and estimation of behavioural life for the loan assets measured at amortized cost. e) Adjustments to model driven ECL results to address emerging trends. Refer Note 3 (vii) and Note 60 (C) of the Ind AS Financial Statements.	to assess the completeness, accuracy and relevance of data, reasonableness of economic forecasts, weights, model assumptions applied and make inquiries with management. ➤ We tested the operating effectiveness of the controls for staging of loans and advances based on their past-due status. ➤ we evaluated reasonableness of LGD estimates by comparing actual recoveries post the loan asset becoming credit impaired with estimates of LGD. ➤ tested a sample of performing (stage 1) loans to assess whether any SICR or loss indicators were present requiring them to be classified under stage 2 or 3. ➤ we tested the mathematical accuracy and computation of the allowances by using the same input data used by the Company. e) We also evaluated the adequacy of the adjustment after stressing the inputs used in determining the output as per the ECL Model and ensured that the adjustment was in conformity with the amount approved by the Audit Committee. f) Testing management's controls on compliance with disclosures to confirm the compliance with the provisions of relevant provisions of Ind AS 109 and the RBI regulations. g) Evaluating the appropriateness of the Company's Ind AS 109 impairment methodologies and reasonableness of assumptions used. h) We also made management enquiries with respect to the overlay quantum. i) For models which were changed or updated during the year, evaluating whether the changes were appropriate by assessing the updated model methodology.

Sr. No.	Key audit matters	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
		j) Discussed with the management, the approach, interpretation, systems and controls implemented in relation to probability of default and stage-wise bifurcation of product-wise portfolios for timely ascertainment of stress and early warning signals. k) Read and assessed the disclosures included in the Ind AS financial statements in respect of expected credit losses with the requirements of Ind AS 107 Financial Instruments: Disclosure ("Ind AS 107") and Ind AS 109.

5. Information Other than the Ind AS financial statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board of Directors Report, Corporate Governance Report, Management Discussion and Analysis, but does not include the Ind AS Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon. These reports are expected to be made available to us after the date of our auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Ind AS Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Ind AS Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the other information included in the above reports, if we conclude that there is material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and determine the actions under the applicable laws and regulations.

6. Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Ind AS Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Ind AS Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Ind AS specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Ind AS Financial Statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Ind AS Financial Statements, Company's Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

7. Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Ind AS financial statements, as a whole, are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Standards on auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Ind AS Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Standards on auditing, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- i. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Ind AS Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- ii. Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has an adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- iii. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- iv. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Ind AS Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- v. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Ind AS Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Ind AS Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of Ind AS Financial Statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

8. Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

- i. As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 (the 'Order') issued by the Central Government of India in terms of section 143(11) of the Act, we give in the 'Annexure A' a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order.

Referred to in paragraph [7(ii)(f)] under Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements of our report of even date

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013

1. We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting with reference to the Ind AS Financial Statements of Lendingkart Finance Limited (the "Company") as of March 31, 2026, in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2026 based on the criteria for internal financial control over financial reporting established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting ("the Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "ICAI").

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act").

Auditors' Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing as specified under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

4. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that:
- (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company;
 - (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the Company; and
 - (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

5. Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

1. Corporate information

Lendingkart Finance Limited ("the Company") is a public limited company domiciled in India. The Company is a "Non-Banking Financial Company" as defined under section 45-IA of the Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") Act, 1934 and engaged in the business of providing business loan to the Small and medium sized enterprises and others and personal loans. The Company is a non-deposit taking non-banking financial company (NBFC) registered with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) with effect from 15 April 2014, with Registration No. B-13.02085 (Issued in lieu of CoR No. B-09.00363). RBI, vide the circular – 'Harmonisation of different categories of NBFCs' issued on 22 February 2019, with a view to provide NBFCs with greater operational flexibility and harmonisation of different categories of NBFCs into fewer categories based on the principle of regulation by activity, merged the three categories of NBFCs viz. Asset Finance Companies (AFC), Loan Companies (LCs) and Investment Companies (ICs) into a new category called NBFC – Investment and Credit Company (NBFC-ICC). Accordingly, the Company has been reclassified as NBFC Investment and Credit Company (NBFC-ICC).

The Company has its registered office at Office 3 Connekt, 401/B, 4th Floor, Silver Utopia, Cardinal Gracious Road, Andheri East, Mumbai Suburban - 400099, Maharashtra, India. As at March 31 2026, Lendingkart Technologies Private Limited ("Holding Company") owned 100% of the Company's equity share capital and has the ability to control its operating and financial policies.

2. Basis of preparations

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time and notified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) along with other relevant provisions of the Act and the Master Direction of Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Companies – Financial Statements: Presentation and Disclosures) Directions, 2025 (Updated as on April 1, 2026) issued by RBI. The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

2.1 Presentation of financial statements

The Balance Sheet and the Statement of Profit and Loss are prepared and presented in the format prescribed in the Division III of Schedule III to the Act applicable for preparation and presentation of the financial statements and disclosure required by Master Directions of the RBI. The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows".

Financial assets and financial liabilities are generally reported gross in the balance sheet. They are only offset and reported net when, in addition to having an unconditional legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts without being contingent on a future event.

2.2 Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make estimates, assumptions and exercise judgments in applying the accounting policies that affect the reported amount of assets, liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the year.

The Management believes that these estimates are prudent and reasonable and are based upon the Management's best knowledge of current events and actions. Actual results could differ from these estimates and differences between actual results and estimates are recognized in the periods in which the results are known or materialized. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively.

3. Material accounting policies

This note provides a list of the material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements.

(i) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured and there exists reasonable certainty of its recovery.

a. Interest income

- (i) The Company calculates interest income by using the effective interest rate (EIR) method to gross carrying amount of financial asset other than credit impaired assets.
- (ii) When a financial asset becomes credit-impaired and is, therefore, regarded as 'Stage 3', the company calculates interest income by applying the effective interest rate to the net amortised cost of the financial asset. If the financial assets cures and is no longer credit-impaired, the company reverts to calculating interest income on a gross basis.
- (iii) Loan processing fee/document fees/stamp fees/ annual maintenance charges which are an integral part of financials assets are recognized through effective interest rate over the term of the loan. For the agreements foreclosed or transferred through assignment, the unamortized portion of the fee is recognized as income to the Statement of profit and loss at the time of such foreclosure/transfer through the assignment.
- (iv) Additional charges such as penalty, cheque dishonour, foreclosure charges, delayed payment charges etc. are recognized on realization basis.

The effective interest rate method

Interest income/ expense is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR) method for all financial instruments measured at amortised cost. The EIR is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or, when appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount of the financial instrument.

The EIR (and therefore, the amortised cost of the asset/ liability) is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition, commission, fees and costs incremental and directly attributable to the specific lending arrangement.

The Company recognises interest income/ expense using a rate of return that represents the best estimate of a constant rate of return over the expected life of the financial asset/ liability. The future cash flows are estimated taking into account all the contractual terms of the asset/ liability. If expectations regarding the cash flows on the financial asset/ liability are revised for reasons other than credit risk, the adjustment is booked as a positive or negative adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset/ liability in the balance sheet. The adjustment is subsequently amortised through Interest income/ expense in the statement of profit and loss.

b. Net gain on fair value changes

The realised gain from financial instruments at FVTPL represents the difference between the carrying amount of a financial instrument at the beginning of the reporting period, or the transaction price if it was purchased in the current reporting period, and its settlement price.

The unrealised gain represents the difference between the carrying amount of a financial instrument at the beginning of the period, or the transaction price if it was purchased in the current reporting period, and its carrying amount at the end of the reporting period.

c. Net gain/(loss) on de-recognition of financial instruments under amortised cost category

Gains arising out of direct assignment transactions comprise the difference between the interest on the loan portfolio and the applicable rate at which the direct assignment is entered into with the assignee, also known as the right of Excess Interest Spread (EIS). The future EIS basis the scheduled cash flows, on execution of the transaction, discounted at the applicable rate entered into with the assignee is recorded upfront in statement of profit and loss. Income from direct assignment transaction represents the difference between the carrying amount of the asset (or the carrying amount allocated to the portion of the asset derecognised) and consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability).

d. Rendering of services

The Company recognises revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as set out in Ind AS 115 to determine when to recognize revenue and at what amount.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in the contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when services are provided and it is highly probable that a significant reversal of revenue is not expected to occur.

If the consideration promised in a contract includes a variable amount, the company estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for rendering the promised services to a customer. An amount of consideration can vary because of discounts, rebates, refunds, credits, price concessions, incentives, performance bonuses, or other similar items. The promised consideration can also vary if an entitlement to the consideration is contingent on the occurrence or non-occurrence of a future event.

(ii) Recognition of expendituresa. Finance costs

Borrowing costs on financial liabilities are recognised using the EIR.

b. Fees and commission expenses

Fees and commission expenses which are not directly linked to the sourcing of financial assets/ liabilities, such as commission/incentive incurred on value added services and products distribution, recovery charges and fees payable for management of portfolio etc., are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on an accrual basis.

c. Taxes

Expenses are recognized net of the Goods and Services Tax/Service Tax, except where credit for the input tax is not statutorily permitted.

(iii) Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is defined as any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

a. Date of recognition

Financial assets and liabilities, with the exception of loans, debt securities and borrowings are initially recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Loans are recognised when funds are transferred to the customers' account. The company recognises debt securities and borrowings when funds are received by the company.

b. Initial measurement of financial instruments

The classification of financial instruments at initial recognition depends on their contractual terms and the business model for managing the instruments. Financial instruments are initially measured at their fair value, except in the case of financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL, transaction costs are added to, or subtracted from, this amount. When the fair value of financial instruments at initial recognition differs from the transaction price, the company accounts for the Day one profit or loss, as described below.

c. Day one profit or loss

When the transaction price of the instrument differs from the fair value at origination and the fair value is based on a valuation technique using only inputs observable in market transactions, the company recognises the difference between the transaction price and fair value in net gain on fair value changes.

d. Measurement categories of financial assets

The company classifies all of its financial assets based on the business model for managing the assets and the contractual terms, measured at either:

- amortised cost
- fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)
- fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

(iv) Financial assets and liabilitiesa. Bank balances, Loans, Trade receivables and financial assets at amortised cost

The company measures Bank balances, Loans and other financial assets at amortised cost if both of the following conditions are met:

- The financial asset is held within a business model with the objective to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows.
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

The details of these conditions are outlined below.

➤ Business model assessment

The Company determines its business model at the level that best reflects how it manages groups of financial assets to achieve its business objective. The Company's business model is not assessed on an instrument by instrument basis, but at a higher level of aggregated portfolios.

If cash flows after initial recognition are realised in a way that is different from the Company's original expectations, the Company does not change the classification of the remaining financial assets held in that business model but incorporates such information when assessing newly originated financial assets going forward. The business model of the Company for assets subsequently measured at amortised cost category is to hold and collect contractual cash flows.

➤ The SPPI test

As a second step of its classification process the company assesses the contractual terms of financial to identify whether they meet the SPPI test.

'Principal' for the purpose of this test is defined as the fair value of the financial asset at initial recognition and may change over the life of the financial asset (for example, if there are repayments of principal or amortisation of the premium/discount).

The most significant elements of interest within a lending arrangement are typically the consideration for the time value of money and credit risk. To make the SPPI assessment, the company applies judgement and considers relevant factors such as the currency in which the financial asset is denominated, and the period for which the interest rate is set.

b. Debt securities and other borrowed funds

After initial measurement, debt issued and other borrowed funds are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on issue funds, and costs that are an integral part of the EIR.

c. Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets and financial liabilities in this category are those that are not held for trading and have been either designated by management upon initial recognition or are mandatorily required to be measured at fair value under Ind AS 109. Management only designates an instrument at FVTPL upon initial recognition when one of the following criteria are met. Such designation is determined on an instrument-by-instrument basis:

- The designation eliminates, or significantly reduces, the inconsistent treatment that would otherwise arise from measuring the assets or liabilities or recognising gains or losses on them on a different basis; Or

- The liabilities are part of a group of financial liabilities, which are managed, and their performance evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with a documented risk management or investment strategy; Or
- The liabilities containing one or more embedded derivatives, unless they do not significantly modify the cash flows that would otherwise be required by the contract, or it is clear with little or no analysis when a similar instrument is first considered that separation of the embedded derivative(s) is prohibited

d. Financial assets at FVOCI

The Company classifies its investments and financial assets as FVOCI, only if both of the following criteria are met:

- The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets; and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are Solely Payments of Principal and Interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

e. Financial guarantees and undrawn loan commitments

Financial guarantees are initially recognised in the financial statements (within Provisions) at fair value, being the premium/deemed premium received. Subsequent to initial recognition, the company's liability under each guarantee is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance or the amount initially recognised less cumulative amortisation recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

- The premium/deemed premium is recognised in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the life of the guarantee.

Undrawn loan commitments are commitments under which, over the duration of the commitment, the Company is required to provide a loan with pre-specified terms to the customer. Undrawn loan commitments are in the scope of the ECL requirements.

The nominal contractual value of undrawn loan commitments, where the loan agreed to be provided is on market terms, are not recorded in the balance sheet.

(v) Reclassification of financial assets and liabilities

The company does not reclassify its financial assets subsequent to their initial recognition, apart from the exceptional circumstances in which the Company acquires, disposes of, or terminates a business line. Financial liabilities are never reclassified.

(vi) Derecognition of financial assets and liabilities

a. Derecognition of financial assets due to substantial modification of terms and conditions

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset have expired. The company also derecognises the financial asset if it has both transferred the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition.

A transfer only qualifies for derecognition if either:

- The company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset; Or
- The company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between:

- the carrying amount (measured at the date of derecognition) and
- the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) is recognised in profit or loss.

Pass-through arrangements are transactions whereby the company retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of a financial asset (the 'original asset'), but assumes a contractual obligation to pay those cash flows to one or more entities (the 'eventual recipients'), when all of the following three conditions are met:

- The company has no obligation to pay amounts to the eventual recipients unless it has collected equivalent amounts from the original asset, excluding short-term advances with the right to full recovery of the amount lent plus accrued interest at market rates.
- The company cannot sell or pledge the original asset other than as security to the eventual recipients. The company has to remit any cash flows it collects on behalf of the eventual recipients without material delay. In addition, the company is not entitled to reinvest such cash flows, except for investments in cash or cash equivalents including interest earned, during the period between the collection date and the date of required remittance to the eventual recipients.

The company considers control to be transferred if and only if, the transferee has the practical ability to sell the asset in its entirety to an unrelated third party and is able to exercise that ability unilaterally and without imposing additional restrictions on the transfer.

When the company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards and has retained control of the asset, the asset continues to be recognised only to the extent of the company's continuing involvement, in which case, the company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration the company could be required to pay.

If continuing involvement takes the form of a written or purchased option (or both) on the transferred asset, the continuing involvement is measured at the value the company would be required to pay upon repurchase. In the case of a written put option on an asset that is measured at fair value, the extent of the entity's continuing involvement is limited to the lower of the fair value of the transferred asset and the option exercise price.

b. Financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or expires. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference between the carrying value of the original financial liability and the consideration paid is recognised in profit or loss.

(vii) Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the financial assets at amortized cost along with related undrawn commitments and loans sanctioned but not disbursed (collectively known as exposure at default).

a. Overview of the ECL principles

The company records allowance for expected credit losses for all loans, other debt financial assets not held at FVTPL, together with loan commitments and financial guarantee contracts, in this section all referred to as 'financial instruments'. Equity instruments are not subject to impairment under Ind AS 109.

The ECL allowance is based on the credit losses expected to arise over the life of the asset (the lifetime expected credit loss or LTECL), unless there has been no significant increase in credit risk since origination, in which case, the allowance is based on the 12 months' expected credit loss (12mECL).

The 12mECL is the portion of LTECLs that represent the ECLs that result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date.

Both LTECLs and 12mECLs are calculated on either an individual basis or a collective basis, depending on the nature of the underlying portfolio of financial instruments.

The company has established a policy to perform an assessment, at the end of each reporting period, of whether a financial instrument's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, by considering the change in the risk of default occurring over the remaining life of the financial instrument.

Based on the above process, the company categorises its loans into Stage 1, Stage 2 and Stage 3, as described below:

The Company classifies its financial assets in three stages having the following characteristics:

- Stage 1: unimpaired and without significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition on which a 12-month allowance for ECL is recognised. Stage 1 loans also include facilities where the credit risk has improved, and the loan has been reclassified from Stage 2.
- Stage 2: a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition on which a lifetime ECL is recognised. Stage 2 loans also include facilities, where the credit risk has improved, and the loan has been reclassified from Stage 3.
- Stage 3: objective evidence of impairment and are therefore considered to be in default or otherwise credit impaired on which a lifetime ECL is recognised.

For financial assets for which the company has no reasonable expectations of recovering either the entire outstanding amount, or a proportion thereof, the gross carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced. This is considered a (partial) derecognition of the financial asset.

b. The calculation of ECLs

The company calculates ECLs to measure the expected cash shortfalls, discounted at an approximation to the EIR. A cash shortfall is the difference between the cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive.

The mechanics of the ECL calculations are outlined below and the key elements are, as follows:

- Probability of Default (PD)
The Probability of Default is an estimate of the likelihood of default over a given time horizon. A default may only happen at a certain time over the assessed period, if the facility has not been previously derecognised and is still in the portfolio.
- Exposure at Default (EAD)
The Exposure at Default is an estimate of the exposure at a future default date, taking into account expected changes in the exposure after the reporting date, including repayments of principal and interest, whether scheduled by contract or otherwise, expected drawdowns on committed facilities, and accrued interest from missed payments.
- Loss given Default (LGD)
The Loss Given Default is an estimate of the loss arising in the case where a default occurs at a given time. It is based on the difference between the contractual cash flows due and those that the lender would expect to receive, including from the realisation of any collateral. It is usually expressed as a percentage of the EAD.

The maximum period for which the credit losses are determined is the contractual life of a financial instrument unless the company has the legal right to call it earlier.

Impairment losses and reversals are accounted for and disclosed separately from modification losses or gains that are accounted for as an adjustment of the financial asset's gross carrying value.

The Company, considering the macroeconomic environment and other available information, estimated various scenarios and applied management overlay while arriving at the provision from expected credit loss.

The mechanics of the ECL method are summarised below:

➤ Stage-1:

The 12mECL is calculated as the portion of LTECLs that represent the ECLs that result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within the 12 months after the reporting date. The company calculates the 12mECL allowance based on the expectation of a default occurring in the 12 months following the reporting date. These expected 12-month default probabilities are applied to a forecast EAD and multiplied by the expected LGD. This calculation is made for each of the three scenarios, as explained above.

➤ Stage-2:

When a loan has shown a significant increase in credit risk since origination, the company records an allowance for the LTECLs. The mechanics are similar to those explained above, including the use of multiple scenarios, but PDs and LGDs are estimated over the lifetime of the instrument.

➤ Stage-3:

For loans considered credit-impaired, the company recognises the lifetime expected credit losses for these loans. The method is similar to that for Stage 2 assets, with the PD set at 100%.

➤ Loan commitments:

When estimating LTECLs for undrawn loan commitments, the company estimates the expected portion of the loan commitment that will be drawn down over its expected life. The ECL is then based on the present value of the expected shortfalls in cash flows if the loan is drawn down, based on a probability-weighting of the three scenarios. The expected cash shortfalls are discounted at an approximation to the expected EIR on the loan.

➤ Financial guarantee contracts:

The company's liability under each guarantee is measured at the higher of the amount initially recognised less cumulative amortisation recognised in the statement of profit and loss, and the ECL provision. For this purpose, the company estimates ECLs based on the present value of the expected payments to reimburse the holder for a credit loss that it incurs. The shortfalls are discounted by the risk-adjusted interest rate relevant to the exposure. The calculation is made using a probability-weighting of the four scenarios. The ECLs related to financial guarantee contracts are recognised within Provisions.

c. Contract assets

The company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on contract assets. The application of simplified approach does not require the company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition. The company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its assets. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the assets and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated for changes in the forward-looking estimates.

(viii) Sovereign Credit Guarantee Schemes

Credit Guarantee Fund Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises (CGTMSE) has been set up jointly by Ministry of MSME, Government of India and SIDBI to catalyse flow of institutional credit to Micro & Small Enterprises (MSEs).

Credit Guarantee Fund for Micro Units (CGFMU) is the Credit Guarantee Trust under the management of National Credit Guarantee Trustee Company Limited (NCGTC), established by the Department of Financial Services, Ministry of Finance.

CGTMSE and CGFMU have been instrumental in providing guarantee cover on credit extended by eligible Member Lending Institutions [MLIs] to MSEs. The Company is a MLI in these schemes and has obtained sovereign guarantee cover on its portfolio. Accordingly, the Company has incorporated the benefit of this sovereign guarantee cover in calculation of impairment of loan assets.

(ix) Write-offs

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. If the amount to be written off is greater than the accumulated loss allowance, the available accumulated loss shall be reversed, and the total amount amount will be provided as write off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities to comply with the Company's procedures for recovery of amounts due. Any subsequent recoveries are credited to impairment on financial instrument on statement of profit and loss.

Determination of fair value

The company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

In order to show how fair values have been derived, financial instruments are classified based on a hierarchy of valuation techniques, as summarised below:

➤ Level-1 financial instruments

Those where the inputs used in the valuation are unadjusted quoted prices from active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the company has access to at the measurement date. The company considers markets as active only if there are sufficient trading activities with regards to the volume and liquidity of the identical assets or liabilities and when there are binding and exercisable price quotes available on the balance sheet date.

➤ Level-2 financial instruments

Those where the inputs that are used for valuation and are significant, are derived from directly or indirectly observable market data available over the entire period of the instrument's life. Such inputs include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical instruments in inactive markets and observable inputs other than quoted prices such as interest rates and yield curves, implied volatilities, and credit spreads. In addition, adjustments may be required for the condition or location of the asset or the extent to which it relates to items that are comparable to the valued instrument. However, if such adjustments are based on unobservable inputs which are significant to the entire measurement, the company will classify the instruments as Level 3.

➤ Level-3 financial instruments

Those that include one or more unobservable input that is significant to the measurement as whole.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

(x) Foreign Currency translationa. Functional and presentational currency

The company financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (₹) which is also the functional currency of the company.

b. Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded in the functional currency at the spot rate of exchange ruling at the date of the transaction.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated into the functional currency at the spot rate of exchange at the reporting date. All differences arising on non-trading activities are taken to other income/expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured at historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the spot exchange rates as at the date of recognition.

(xi) Leases

The company assesses at contract inception whether a contract is, or contains, a lease. That is, if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

a. Company as a lessee

The company applies a single recognition and measurement approach for all leases, except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets. The company recognises lease liabilities to make lease payments and right-of-use assets representing the right to use the underlying assets.

➤ Right-of-use assets

The company recognises right-of-use assets at the commencement date of the lease (i.e., the date the underlying asset is available for use). Right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities. The cost of right-of-use assets includes the amount of lease liabilities recognised, initial direct costs incurred, and lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received. Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the estimated useful lives of the assets.

If ownership of the leased asset transfers to the company at the end of the lease term or the cost reflects the exercise of a purchase option, depreciation is calculated using the estimated useful life of the asset. The right-of-use assets are also subject to impairment.

➤ Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of the lease, the company recognises lease liabilities measured at the present value of lease payments to be made over the lease term. The lease payments include fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, and amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees. The lease payments also include the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the company and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising the option to terminate. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as expenses (unless they are incurred to produce inventories) in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

In calculating the present value of lease payments, the company uses its incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date because the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable. After the commencement date, the amount of lease liabilities is increased to reflect the accretion of interest and reduced for the lease payments made. In addition, the carrying amount of lease liabilities is remeasured if there is a modification, a change in the lease term, a change in the lease payments (e.g., changes to future payments resulting from a change in an index or rate used to determine such lease payments) or a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset.

➤ Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The company applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to its short-term leases i.e., those leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option. It also applies the lease of low-value assets recognition exemption to leases of office equipment that are considered to be low value. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

b. Company as a lessor

Leases in which the company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income arising is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

(xii) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand and cash at bank, including fixed deposits & highly liquid securities with an original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

(xiii) Property, plant and equipment

Property plant and equipment is recognised as an asset when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the assets will flow to the company and the cost of the assets can be measured reliably. Subsequent to initial recognition, property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. The cost excludes expenditures related to day-to-day servicing, which are recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price (after deducting trade discounts and rebates) including import duties and non-refundable taxes, any directly attributable cost of bringing the item to its working condition for its intended use.

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on the written down value method using the rates arrived at based on useful life of the assets prescribed under Schedule II of the Act which is also as per the useful life of the assets estimated by the management.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. Changes in the expected useful life are accounted for by changing the amortisation period or methodology, as appropriate, and treated as changes in accounting estimates.

Property plant and equipment is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is recognised in other income / expense in the statement of profit and loss in the year the asset is derecognised. The date of disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is the date the recipient obtains control of that item in accordance with the requirements for determining when a performance obligation is satisfied in Ind AS 115.

(xiv) Intangible assets

The company's intangible assets mainly include the value of computer software and Goodwill.

An intangible asset is recognised only when its cost can be measured reliably, and it is probable that the expected future economic benefits that are attributable to it will flow to the company.

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is their fair value as at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets are amortised using the straight-line method over a period of three years, which is the Management's estimate of its useful life. The useful lives of intangible assets are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

(xv) Impairment of non-financial assets

The company assesses at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account.

For assets, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognised impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the statement of profit or loss unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case, the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

(xvi) Financial guarantees

Financial guarantees are initially recognised in the financial statements (within 'other liabilities') at fair value, being the premium received. Subsequently, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognised less cumulative amortisation.

Any increase in the liability relating to financial guarantees is recorded in the statement of profit and loss under impairment of financial instruments. The premium received is recognised in the statement of profit and loss under interest income on a straight-line basis over the life of the guarantee.

(xvii) Retirement and other employee benefitsa. Provident fund

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the government provident fund. The company recognises contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expense, when an employee renders the related service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognised as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid, if the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognised as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment or a cash refund.

b. Gratuity liability

Gratuity liability is a defined benefit plan and the costs of providing benefits under the defined benefit plan is determined using the projected unit credit method.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability and the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability), are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Past service costs are recognised in profit or loss on the earlier of:

- The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
- The date that the Company recognises related restructuring costs

Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The company recognises the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:

- Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments or nonroutine settlements; and
- Net interest expense or income

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service ('past service cost' or past service gain') or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss. The Company recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs.

c. Compensated absences

Accumulated leave, which is expected to be utilized within the next 12 months, is treated as short-term employee benefit. The Company measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date.

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end.

(xviii) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the effect of the time value of money is material, the company determines the level of provision by discounting the expected cash flows at a pre-tax rate reflecting the current rates specific to the liability. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

(xix) Taxes

a. Current tax

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior years are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from, or paid to, the taxation authorities, in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the Income Computation and Disclosure Standards (ICDS) prescribed therein. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted, or substantively enacted, by the reporting date in the jurisdiction where the company operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts, and it is intended to realise the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or simultaneously.

b. Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences at the reporting date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- Where the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, where the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

c. Goods and services tax /value added taxes paid on acquisition of assets or on incurring expenses

Expenses and assets are recognised net of the goods and services tax/value added taxes paid, except:

- When the tax incurred on a purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case, the tax paid is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item, as applicable.
- When receivables and payables are stated with the amount of tax included.

The net amount of tax recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of non-financial assets or liabilities in the balance sheet. The ineligible input credit is charged off to the respective expense or capitalised as part of asset cost as applicable.

(xx) Contingent liabilities, contingent assets and commitments

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognise a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial statements. However, it is disclosed only when an inflow of economic benefits is highly probable.

Commitments include the amount of purchase order (net of advances) issued to the counterparties for supplying/development of asset and amount of undisbursed portfolio loans.

Contingent assets, contingent liabilities and commitments are reviewed at each reporting date.

Contingent liabilities recognised in a business combination

A contingent liability recognised in a business combination is initially measured at its fair value. Subsequently, it is measured at the higher of the amount that would be recognised in accordance with the requirements for provisions above or the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised in accordance with the requirements for revenue recognition.

(xxi) Share issue expenses

Direct expenses in connection with issue of shares are adjusted from securities premium account to the extent available.

(xxii) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing profit after tax (excluding other comprehensive income) attributable to the equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

4. Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations except under common control are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. For each business combination, the Company elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred. At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition date fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

- I. Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively.

- ii. Liabilities or equity instruments related to share based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share – based payments arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payments at the acquisition date.

When the Company acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognised for non-controlling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognises the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Company's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Company reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted through goodwill during the measurement period, or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised at that date. These adjustments are called as measurement period adjustments. The measurement period does not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

5. Critical accounting estimates and judgments and new amendments

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, as well as the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Accounting estimates and judgments are used in various line items in the financial statements for e.g.:

- Business model assessment
- Fair value of financial instruments – Note no. 58
- Effective Interest Rate (EIR)
- Impairment on financial assets – Note no. 60(C)
- Provisions and other contingent liabilities – Note no. 25 and 52
- Provision for tax expenses – Note no. 40

➤ Residual value and useful life of property, plant and equipment

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs notified new standards or amendment to existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) and Rules as issued from time to time. The Company applied following amendments for the first-time during the current year which are effective from 1 April 2024:

i. Introduction of Ind AS 117

MCA notified Ind AS 117, a comprehensive standard that prescribe, recognition, measurement and disclosure requirements, to avoid diversities in practice for accounting insurance contracts and it applies to all companies i.e., to all "insurance contracts" regardless of the issuer. However, Ind AS 117 is not applicable to the entities which are insurance companies registered with IRDAI. The Company has reviewed the new pronouncements and based on its evaluation has determined that these amendments do not have an impact on the Company's Financial Statements.

Impairment testing of goodwill

For impairment testing, goodwill acquired through business combinations has been allocated to the cash generating unit (CGU), which are benefited from the synergies of the acquisition, representing the lowest level within the Company at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and which is not higher than the Company's operating segment.

Goodwill arising upon business combinations is not amortised but tested for impairment at least annually or more frequently if there is any indication that the cash generating unit to which goodwill is allocated is impaired.

The recoverable amount of a CGU is the higher of its fair value less cost to sell and its value-in-use. Value-in-use is calculated as per the Excess Return Method (ERM), where the value is derived as the sum of book value of equity as on the date of valuation and the present value of the expected excess returns to the equity investors. Excess equity return for the explicit period is arrived by deducting the equity cost from the net profit. The terminal value of excess return beyond the explicit period is arrived as per the Gordon Growth Model based on the maintainable excess equity return.

Key assumptions upon which the Company has based its determinations of value-in-use include:

Estimated returns for five years, based on management's projections.

Growth Rate estimates: Terminal value arrived at by extrapolating the maintainable excess equity returns to perpetuity, using a constant long-term growth rate of 3%.

Discount Rates: The discount rate calculation is based on the specific circumstances of the Company and its operating segments and is derived from its Cost of Equity (ke). Adjustments to the discount rate are made to factor in the specific amount and timing of the future tax flows in order to reflect a post tax discount rate. The after tax discount rates used range from 13.64% to 20.11%.

During the year, Company fully impaired the carrying amount of goodwill arising on account of consolidation based on the above mentioned analysis.

58. Fair values Measurement:

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction in the principal (or most advantageous) market at the measurement date under current market conditions (i.e., an exit price), regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using a valuation technique.

In order to show how fair values have been derived, financial instruments are classified based on a hierarchy of valuation techniques.

Valuation framework

The Company's valuation framework includes:

- Benchmarking prices against observable market prices or other independent sources;
- Development and validation of fair valuation models using model logic, inputs, outputs and adjustments.

These models are subject to approvals by various functions including risk, treasury and finance functions. Finance function is responsible for establishing procedures, governing valuation and ensuring fair values are in compliance with accounting standards.

Valuation methodologies adopted

- Fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost except for market linked debentures, derivative financial instrument and cash and bank balances which are measured at fair value through profit and loss and investments which are measured at fair value through OCI.
- Fair value of Market linked debentures is derived from independent valuer. The valuation is done based on discounted cashflow method. The option portion is projected using Monte Carlo simulations and Geometric Brownian Motion is used to project the Index levels into the future. The Index levels are projected based on certain assumptions and the value of debenture is then arrived at by discounting the respective cashflows.
- The Company has determined that the carrying values of expenses payables, bank overdrafts and other current liabilities are a reasonable approximation of their fair value and hence their carrying value are deemed to be fair value.

59. Fair value hierarchy:

The Company determines fair values of its financial instruments according to the following hierarchy:

Level 1: valuation based on quoted market price: financial instruments with quoted prices for identical instruments in active markets that the Company can access at the measurement date.

Level 2: valuation based on using observable inputs: financial instruments with quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in inactive markets and financial instruments valued using models where all significant inputs are observable.

Level 3: valuation technique with significant unobservable inputs: – financial instruments valued using valuation techniques where one or more significant inputs are unobservable. This is the case for contingent consideration and indemnification assets.

(i) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign currency rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primary to certain vendors in trade payables and borrowings.

The company holds derivative financial instruments such as Cross currency interest rate swap to mitigate foreign currency risk arising from foreign currency borrowings. The company policy is to fully hedge its foreign currency borrowings at the time of drawdown and remain so until repayment. The counterparty for these contracts is generally a bank.

C. Credit Risk:

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss arising out of a customer or counterparty failing to meet their repayment obligations to the Company. The lending model focuses on SME Lending. The nature of the product is unsecured.

The Company assesses the credit quality of all financial instruments that are subject to credit risk.

Classification of financial assets under various stages

The Company classifies its financial assets in three stages having the following characteristics:

- Stage 1: Unimpaired and without significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition on which a 12-month allowance for ECL is recognised.
- Stage 2: A significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition on which a lifetime ECL is recognised.
- Stage 3: objective evidence of impairment and are therefore considered to be in default or otherwise credit impaired on which a lifetime ECL is recognised.

Unless identified at an earlier stage, all financial assets are deemed to have suffered a significant increase in credit risk when they are 30 days past due (DPD) and are accordingly transferred from stage 1 to stage 2. For stage 1 an ECL allowance is calculated based on a 12 month Point in Time (PIT) probability weighted probability of default (PD). For stage 2 and 3 assets a lifetime ECL is calculated based on a lifetime PD.

The Company has calculated ECL using three main components: a probability of default (PD), a loss given default (LGD) and the exposure at default (EAD) along with an adjustment considering forward macro-economic conditions.

Financial instruments other than loans, Interest receivable on assignment of loans and Receivable from co-lenders were subjected to simplified ECL approach under Ind AS 109 'Financial Instruments' and accordingly were not subject to sensitivity of future economic conditions.

Below is the summary for the approach adopted by the Company for various components of ECL viz. PD, EAD and LGD using empirical data where relevant:

- Probability of Default (PD)

The Company's operates with its internal rating models in which its customers are rated from "A" to "E" using internal grades. The models incorporate both qualitative and quantitative information and, in addition to information specific to the borrower, utilises supplemental external information that could affect the borrower's behaviour.

The risk segmentation has been based on the behaviour model risk buckets. Behaviour model is scored at regular intervals, and incorporate borrower's updated credit information report, repayment performance & initial risk rating, to assess the future risk of going default. PDs are then adjusted for Ind AS 109 ECL calculations to incorporate forward looking information and the Ind AS 109 Stage classification of the exposure.

Stage 1: based on internal behaviour model (12 months' probability of default)

Stage 2: based on days past due (lifetime probability of default)

Stage 3: 100%

- Exposure at Default (EAD)

The exposure at default represents the outstanding and interest accrued of the financial instruments subject to the impairment calculation.
